equipping their potential, and guiding students to pursue their purpose on purpose.

You may know Dr. Fleming for his library of viral animation videos including Success in the New Economy, or from his four books including the bestseller, (Re)Defining the Goal, the career exploration children's book There's A Hat for That!, and the inspirational title, Words Are Your Superpower. He has elevated Career & Technical Education (CTE) programs nationally through dynamic professional development, and he has secured and managed over $85 Million in competitive grants to advance economic & educational opportunity. Dr. Fleming works tirelessly towards an educational model that is flexible, purpose-driven, student-focused, and career-minded.

Beginning his career in academia within student services, Dr. Fleming has vast experience in classroom instruction, student leadership, labor market research, economic development, marketing, fundraising, grant/project management, academic affairs, and professional speaking. He volunteers locally with his church and nationally with the Association of Career & Technical Education. He truly walks the talk.

A passionate advocate for student success, he has served alongside us as a regional labor market director, CTE faculty member, a CTE Dean supporting over 40 programs, and a community college Vice President of Planning & Development. His statewide leadership includes the California Community College Association for Occupational Education and multiple visiting teams for the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges. As Chief Innovation & Engagement Officer for the Los Angeles Regional Consortium, he supports CTE and workforce development with 19 community colleges in the 17th largest economy in the world. He is also the Founder and CEO of Catapult providing leadership & professional development masterclasses to K-16 institutions to change paradigms and transform culture.

Dr. Fleming's Center of Excellence was recognized by the Community College Futures Assembly (National Bellwether Award) for analyzing industry trends, and workforce needs, & providing customized labor market research for the largest higher education system in the world: the California Community Colleges. His career activities have helped influence state legislation, district student-success initiatives, and funding allocations within 38 states/countries.

A self-proclaimed recovering academic elitist, and a true lifelong learner, he has earned two Bachelor's degrees from Loyola Marymount University (Psychology & Philosophy); a Master of Arts from The Ohio State University (Educational Policy & Leadership), an MBA from the University of Redlands, and a Ph.D. in Education from Claremont Graduate University...but it was his CTE industry certification in geographical information systems (GIS) that lifted him out of working poverty.

Dr. Fleming is a proud eagle scout, husband, father, and certified etiquette trainer, and has successfully founded five private-sector companies in different sectors. He currently serves on the Board of Future N Focus Dream Catcher Enterprises and remains an active volunteer with Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity. He has completed five marathons and has been honored with the Presidential Citation for Outstanding Achievement and Service from his first alma mater Loyola Marymount University. Energetic, passionate, & principled, he believes -
